// PROFILE

Junior Frontend Developer with experience in React stack development.

I enjoy creating attractive and user-friendly interfaces in collaboration with other developers, designers, and managers. I have a strong theoretical foundation in web development and skills in design and illustration. I strive to build beautiful and intuitive interfaces and write clean, readable, and self-documenting code. I am always attentive to detail and focused on delivering high-quality results. I am able to apply my knowledge in new environments, learn quickly, and adapt to change.

// EXPERIENCE

Intern Frontend Developer of Yandex Advertising Network

February 2022 — may 2022

Yandex, Saint-Petersburg

My internship consisted of two parts:

- > Product tasks from sprints (fix pagination, fix sending incorrect data to backend, etc.);
- > A big task for the entire internship, the main goal of which was to create new single ESLint configuration for the entire project:
 - > collect team requirements for code style and divide a large epic into tickets for sprints, evaluate them with the team;
 - > update versions of all necessary packages and remove unnecessary ones;
 - > lint the entire project in accordance with the new configuration and fix the errors that have appeared (make a refactoring, add new types or interfaces or change existing ones);
 - > set up precommit hooks and ESLint checks on CI.

I refactored and linted a large legacy project written in different technologies, new and old (Flow - Typescript - JSDoc, React - bem-components, etc.)

I learned how to interact with the team with the SCRUM framework, gained experience in organizing meetings, reading a large amount of code written by another developer
